The fast horses Aimes, Katydid, Nelson B. and Tonic, will be in training next Saturday on the track at the Fair Grounds, and will compete for the purse at our fair.

Capt. Sam. Bright went to Columbus last Thursday to see the grand Democratic demonstration and hear the orators. He thinks, and properly, that Carlisle is the ablest speaker in the country.

Bro. Willard devotes a large amount of space to tell that he knows nothing about Mr. Outwaite's speech. It takes a great deal of space from our esteemed contemporary to tell what he does not know.

The people of Logan will be pleased to learn that the M. E. Conference has continued Rev. Burns as Minister here. He is an earnest Christian gentleman, a zealous, kind hearted pastor, and his congregation as well as the public at large will be glad to know that he will remain with us.

A Republican caucus was held in front of Rebers on Tuesday, Frank Wheeler occupied the goods box. Editor Willard got by his side, Lloyd Myers stood up in front. It was agreed that Wheeler would keep out of the Valley, but would pay Bob Price's expenses. Victors was conspicuously absent. Their arrangement is in the interest of Harmony.

There will positively be a prize Bicycle Race at 11 o'clock the last day of the Fair, come and see the boys go.

Col. Ed. Davenport, the brilliant editor-in-chief of the Rep. Gazette, left last night for Cincinnati. He will remain until next Monday, during which time he will take charge of the Enquirer. In the mean time, the Rep. Gaz. will print a patent inside, and editorially discuss West Va. politics.

Among the many distinguished Lancaster Democrats who attended the meeting on Monday, we are pleased to acknowledge a call from Bro. Wetzler, of the Eagle, Judge Silas H. Wright, Mayor Rainey, Hon. John G. Reeves, and the Nestor of Fair-field politics, John C. Tutthill.

Rev. Holliday, of Mt. Pleasant has been assigned to the M. E. church at Shawnee. Mr. Holliday is a worthy christian minister, and we heartily congratulate the citizens of Shawnee and the M. E. congregation upon their good fortune in securing as eminent a divine and as excellent a citizen.

Mr. Humphries writes us a communication in which he makes the point that he once knew the time when a man had ten jobs of work to do, but now there are ten men for every job, all on account of the "prospering" the Republican party gives the country. He also informs us that Rev Hart has been around kicking down politics, and thinks that he will find out all about it after the election.

Judge Friesner entertained at tea the speakers on last Monday evening. A dozen or more gentlemen of the neighboring towns and of our own county were guests. A very delightful evening was passed, and Judge Friesner, who is a host in himself, has established the reputation of being a good provider, and a host for an evening entertainment, that ranks him up with the foremost hospitable gentlemen the country affords.

A very pleasant reception was given to the speakers in the evening at the Judge's home, attended by quite a number of our citizens, Democrats and Republicans.

The committee desire to return thanks to the ladies who did such excellent work in decorating the speakers stand. The testimony of the speakers was, that the stand was the handsomest they had seen this year.

Special thanks are due to Mrs. Bauerhaus, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Green, and the Misses Eliza Wynn, Ella Vanatta, Clara Keirle, and Emma Downey. Mrs. R. Bell and Miss Eliza Wynn contributed handsome flowers. Messrs A. H. Wilson, Wash Wymann, Charles Tenyhill and G. G. Gage, rendered valuable aid. Al. Gaffney prepared the design. The stand was a model of beauty and good taste.

General Robinson opposed to the Wool Growers.

The Newark Advocate of last week publishes Gen. Robinson's record when in Congress, on the wool question, proving conclusively by the official records that he voted to reduce the tariff on wool. The wool growers of this State know this and will not forget it on election day.

MARRIED.
By the Rev. J. F. Williams, Sept. 24th, at the residence of the bride's father, in Hocking Co., O. Mr. Byron W. Shephard, of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Miss Addie M. Sizoo.

The young couple left on the afternoon train for their western home, taking with them the best wishes of the many friends of the bride in our county.

The SENTINEL joins with friends in congratulation and extends thanks for kind remembrance.

KENO!

It is reported that Frank Keno the Chairman of the late Republican convention at Logan, is a spy on the miners. A letter was found in which it appears that Keno is in close relation with John T. Norris, and is operating for the Syndicate.

If he is for Blaine, he is for the Syndicate, because Blaine is of the Syndicate, and Mr. Long, Secretary of the Akron Iron Co. says so.

Keno needs watching.

Bridge Awards.

The Commissioners have made award of the following bridges: Bloomingville bridge, 60 foot span, Iron-Massillon Iron Bridge Co., at $13 per lineal foot.

Bloomingville bridge, 84 feet span, Iron-King Iron Bridge Co. of Cleveland, at $10.

Honey Fork Bridge near H. K. Wright's, 45 foot span, Iron-Motherwell Iron and Steel Works of Logan, at $10.25 per lineal foot.

The bridges to be completed by October 1st.

The Grand Democratic Mass Meeting at Columbus.

The Largest Democratic Gathering in Fifty Years.

The Crowd Estimated at One Hundred Thousand.

Five Thousand Torch Lights in Procession.

The Orators of National Repute Make Enthusiastic Speeches.

Special Dispatch to the Enquirer: COLUMBUS, O., September 25.—

The Democrats had the greatest mass meeting and demonstration of the period here to-day. It is said by the older politicians to have surpassed the great events of 1840.

The assembling of the Buckeye hosts to-day was one of common interest and enthusiasm. They did not travel for days in wagons, but one excursion train after another rolled in with shouting Democrats and banners for Cleveland, Hendricks and Reform.

The streets were blocked with the moving currents of enthusiastic and earnest workers. The bands were going it from early dawn, and the local clubs were kept busy doing escort duty till late in the day. The large mass came in as visitors, but many of the clubs were uniformed, and others in county delegations wore badges.

At two o'clock the meeting opened with Judge Thurman presiding, and making an introductory speech and happy hits as he introduced the different speakers. There was grand array of great men on the stage, which was tastefully decorated with bunting, Cleveland and Hendricks banners and floral designs. The house was packed and enthusiasm ran high.

Senator Thomas F. Bayard made the most brilliant speech that has been heard during the campaign, being a philosophical view of the situation, and an appeal for an honest and constitutional administration of the Government. Great events, he said, and the cure of the evils in the body politic, was a thing of no sudden work. He gave a graphic history of the growth of the Democracy since the war, its struggle against corrupt legislation and special and unconstitutional enactments. He had seen the Senate with only nine Democrats—not enough to demand the yeas and nays—and since it had been controlled by the party of the people, the party had attained control of both branches of Congress, and of the Executive, but it had been defrauded of the latter. It would go on till it had the military, naval, judicial, and all civil branches of the Government, and reform would be real in the country.

The Senator reviewed the records of both parties very eloquently, and took up Blaine's record, discussing the Mulligan letters, and other public acts from which he showed a breach of public trust which was typical of the Republican party.

He said that Blaine was the choice of his party, and that he fully represented the organization which is entrenched with corrupt powers and beings. Compared to this, he developed the grand idea of American honesty and integrity.

Senator Bayard was followed by Senator Payne, Ex Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin, and Gov. McLane, of Maryland.

THE EVENING MEETING.
The meetings at night were from four platforms in the Capitol grounds, with Chairman and full organization for each. On the east side Governor Hendricks, Senator Pendleton, George M. Jewett and others spoke, and on the west side Ex Senator Doolittle, Hon. Charles W. Bovey, of Wisconsin, and Congressman John Follett. On the south side General Mansen, of Missouri, Speaker John G. Carlisle of Kentucky, Mr. Gooding of Indiana, and General Durbin Ward, and on the north side General J. W. Denver, Congressman P. A. Collins of Boston, Governor Hoody and General J. T. McCarthy of Pennsylvania.

The Cleveland and Hendricks Glee Club rendered music at intervals in the rotunda of the Capitol, and the meetings continued with enthusiasm and glowing demonstrations until midnight.

The Democracy have been extended the full freedom of the city, and, while there is not the least disorder and no carousing, they are painting it red to night in their halo of glory of the coming success of the party of the people.

The street parade, of which Grand Marshal P. J. Sullivan, with a large corps of Aids, had charge, was a grand success. There were about ten thousand men in line with torches, and most of them uniformed. Of these, one thousand were mounted. There were twenty bands and numerous drum corps. The parade enlivened the city from one end of it to the other. Illuminations were the order all along the line of march. The procession was an hour in passing a given point, and in it were banners and mottoes without end. The transparencies showed up Blaine, the monopolies, the grand old party, the jobbers, and everything. The portraits of Cleveland and Hendricks, Newman and Outwaite, and of local candidates, were brilliantly displayed, and along the whole line of march a dazzling display of fire-works was kept up. This was mostly done by citizens.

In and around the Capital Square the display of the fireworks under the auspices of the committee were very elaborate. They were given from the dome of the Capitol, from the top of Neil House and other buildings, and from numerous stands. During the display two fires were started in the business blocks, but they were soon put out. The Capitol grounds were a sea of surging people. The Capitol was completely surrounded by the multitude. Designs with "Cleveland and Hendricks" displayed from them were found all over the grounds, while the speaking took place from four platforms on either side of the Capitol. The clubs from all the surrounding towns, and some from a great distance, took part with the local organizations and marched, in all about ten miles. The procession was about two miles in length, and hard to handle. The illumination of the State House, with all surrounding buildings, and the display of fire works made a grand appearance.

About two hundred and fifty Democrats from Logan were present, each carrying a hickory cane and wearing a pink satin badge adorned with haws. Our boys made a fine appearance and commanded general admiration.

It was a big day in Columbus, and a certain sign of coming success.

STATE CLUB ORGANIZATION.
Preliminary steps were taken to organize a State Club Association. Col. W. A. Taylor, of Columbus, is the Committee man from this, the 13th District.

Grand Republican Mass Meeting at Columbus.

BLAINE will be present at this meeting, and also a number of Republican Speakers and Leaders. Grand Torch Light Parade and review of Blaine & Logan Clubs in the evening. W. H. Harrison, G. P. A.

Don't forget to call at Phil Slisher's when coming to the city.

Our Population.

Rev. C. O. Hart, while taking the school enumeration, also made a careful count of the population of the town, with the following results:

There are within the limits of the town corporation, 651 families, in which there are 1567 males and 1724 females, making a total population of 3291.

There are 718 voters, divided as follows: 1st ward, 206; 2nd ward, 201; 3rd ward, 168; 4th ward, 143.

There are in the school district which embraces 20 families outside of the corporate limits, 1193 persons of a school age. Males 569, females 624.

With the exception of a few chronic cases, there are not a score of sick persons in our town to-day—Sept. 26th. In fact the town has never, within the last 30 years been more healthy.

C. O. HART.
Go to Phil Slisher's for fresh Bread and Cakes. His restaurant is also complete.

OBITUARY.

Daniel Mathias was born Oct. 8th, 1814, and died Sept. 22, 1884, aged 66 years 11 months and 14 days.

He leaves a devoted wife. He was the father of eleven children four of whom has preceded, seven yet living, 29 grand-children, 27 of whom are living.

Father Mathias was a member of the Lutheran Church for many years. His death was calm and peaceful. He now rests with Him who saith, "I am the way."

Rev. J. M. CANTER.
Phil Slisher keeps the best Wines and Liquors in the city.

ATTENTION!

Laboring Men.

Read What the Republican Administration is Doing for you.

A Dispatch From Washington to the Columbus Journal.

No Democratic Campaign in this The Republican Policy.

Special to the Ohio State Journal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Quite a fight has been going on here among the laboring classes against the employment of foreigners to work on the sewers now under contract. The matter in a measure involves the attitude of the administration on the subject of importing laborers under contract. The work is paid for by the government and the District of Columbia jointly, but it was let without any reserve as to how it should be done or by whom done. So when a pack of fifty or sixty Italians was brought here there was a great deal of objection made. Processions of colored and white laborers called upon the district commissioners, by whom the contract was let, and protests were made. The contractors were rebuked by the commissioners, yet there was no legal recourse.

It is claimed that the Italians were imported expressly for the work. While only about sixty are at work, it is intended to employ two or three hundred. They live in the woods without the city limits; their habits are filthy and they exist on a six pence and work for four bits a day. For several days it has looked like the local laborers would mob the foreigners and the contractors too. Within the past twenty-four hours, however, the "cheese-eaters," as the Italians are called, have been slipping out of the city, and talk of violence is subsiding.

Miners be on Your Guard.
Frank Wheeler and the Syndicate have employed Bob Price to come among you and electioneer you for the Republican party.

Wheeler dare not attempt this work himself. He selects Bob Price, because Price for a fee has been doing some legal work for the miners. Price is retained as a lawyer on your side. He would be on the other side if retained on that side first. He has only done for you what his duty as a paid lawyer compelled him to do. He can be re-named and employed by the Republican party to come among you and preach politics.

He is paid for this work. Give him attention. That is polite and proper, but consider the Syndicate source that animates him on this mission.

Workingmen, Attention!

Blaine's Interest in the Hocking Valley.

One of the Capitalists Against Whom Miners Strike.

Because Their Monopoly of Coal Lands Enables Them to Grind the Faces of the Laborers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—William D. Marvel, a well-known iron dealer of this city, writes to the Post this evening and says:

"If you will turn to the New York Tribune of August 31, 1881, you will find an item setting forth the enormous monopoly of nearly all the coal and iron interests of the Hocking Valley, in Ohio, giving the names of the persons who provided the 'colossal capital' for the monopolization and operation of about one hundred and forty square miles, or ninety thousand acres of land."

"Among the names will be found Governor Foster, of Ohio; Mr. William Walter Phelps, of New Jersey; Mr. Secretary James G. Blaine, and General James A. Hall, of Maine. When the tariff question was before Congress Mr. Blaine came forward as a special lobbyist of the coal and iron interests for a big duty on bituminous coal and iron ore."

"The duty on iron ore is 75 cts per ton; the duty on bituminous coal is 75 cts per ton."

"If you will turn to the file of the Commercial Advertiser you will find on the 17th of July, 1884 a dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, that a large number of imported laborers had been sent down to the Hocking Valley mines, guarded by 130 of Pinkerton's special police, armed with carbines and revolvers. In the Commercial Advertiser of the 15th of July, 1884, you will find another dispatch stating that the owners say they will have 3,000 more foreigners to go into the mines in a few days."

"The dispatches of yesterday and to-day from the region portray the condition of things there now. Now, what are the facts?

"A great monopoly has a protective tariff of seventy-five cent per ton on bituminous coal, ostensibly for the benefit of the poor workingmen, to protect the poor workingmen, to protect them against what is called pauper labor. Now, those miners only struck against having their wages reduced below seventy cents per ton. Thus they only asked as wages five cents less than the entire amount of the protective tariff, and they are treated with carbines and revolvers. This is a fine showing upon which to ask the laboring men to vote for Mr. Blaine."

Reference to the files of the Tribune show that Mr. Marvel is correct in reference.

Bob Price, who has been doing some law business for "charity" for the miners, has been selected by Frank Wheeler and Jesse Butin, to go down the Monday creek and disburse the campaign fund the syndicate furnishes. The sum Bob has to distribute is not very large, because the profit on Hungarian labor has not yet realized very much.

Wheeler and Butin are not inclined to make the canvass of the mines.
